

STANDARD OIL MUST BE DISSOLVED

Supreme Court Finds It to be a Combination in Restraint of Trade

MUST DISSOLVE WITHIN SIX MONTHS

Is Monopolizing Inter-State Commerce in Violation of Sherman Anti-Trust Law—Justice Harlan Dissents on the Use of Term "Undue" Text of Opinion Contains Over 20,000 Words—No Tobacco Decision Yet.

Washington, May 15.—The Standard Oil company of New Jersey and its numerous subsidiaries were declared today by the supreme court to be a combination in restraint of trade. It also was held to be monopolizing interstate commerce in violation of the Sherman anti-trust law. The dissolution of the combination was ordered within six months.

As to Other Corporations. Corporations whose contracts are not unreasonably restrictive of competition are not affected. Other great corporations whose acts may be called into question will be dealt with according to the merits of their particular cases.

Justice Harlan Dissents on One Point. The court was unanimous as to the main features of the decision. Justice Harlan dissented only as to a limitation on the application of the Sherman anti-trust law.

Cabinet to Consider Situation. President Taft and cabinet will consider immediately the entire trust situation and the advisability of pressing for a federal incorporation act.

Tobacco Trust Decision Later. A decision in the tobacco trust case, which was expected simultaneously, was not announced today, but may be handed down on May 29.

A Long Struggle. Today's decision ends the tremendous struggle which has been going on since the decision of the supreme court in 1907, when it was held that the combination was a restraint of trade.

Not "Every Restraint of Trade." At the same time the court interpreted the Sherman anti-trust law as not to limit its application to every "undue" restraint of trade and not "every" restraint of trade.

Control of Crude Product Resulted from Control of Refined Product. The inference that no attempt to monopolize could have been intended by the Standard Oil company, as the court held, was based on the fact that the company had no control over the production of crude oil, but only over the refined product.

Will Be Subjected to Same Test. The opinion of the court today was announced to mean that the tobacco case, like every other case, which restrains trade is alleged, may be subjected to the new test of reasonableness of the restraint complained of as laid down in the Standard Oil decision.

The "Rule of Reason." By far the greater portion of the opinion of the chief justice was devoted to the interpretation of the Sherman anti-trust law, which requires that the restraint of trade be "unreasonable."

Not "Every Restraint of Trade." At the same time the court interpreted the Sherman anti-trust law as not to limit its application to every "undue" restraint of trade and not "every" restraint of trade.

Fire Engine Quells Riot

STREAMS OF WATER PLAYED ON LAWLESS MOB.

ATTEMPT TO USE STRIKE BREAKERS AT GRAND RAPIDS CAUSES TROUBLE—MAYOR ATTEMPTS TO RESTORE ORDER.

Grand Rapids, Mich., May 15.—At least twenty policemen were injured and many of a mob of two thousand striking furniture workers and sympathizers were hurt in a riot at the plant of the Grand Rapids Furniture company tonight. Several of the injured may die.

The Mob Wet Down. After a fierce battle with revolvers, clubs, stones and missiles of almost every description, in which the police were badly outnumbered, a fire engine company attacked the mob with streams of water and succeeded in quelling the disturbance to a considerable extent.

Many Women were Active among the Riots. How Trouble Started. The trouble started when a mob of about three hundred men, women and boys attacked a closed automobile driven by Ralph Whitcomb of the furniture company, before it was taken to a strike breakers from the factory.

Police were Overwhelmed. One of the policemen on guard at the plant attempted to make an arrest, and the mob closed in on him. Other policemen with drawn revolvers quickly arrived, but were overwhelmed.

Police Officers Knocked Senseless. A squad of reserves were rushed to the scene and soon began firing, and the fire was returned by a number of rioters. Several of the police officers were knocked senseless by missiles hurled or swung by women.

Mayor Attempts to Restore Order. Mayor Mills made a fruitless attempt to quell the riot by ordering a fire department was summoned. A savage fight ensued when the firemen began to use their hoses, but the mob was finally overpowered and broken up.

Strike Breakers Sprung Away. The strike breakers were spirited away, and while comparative quiet now reigns a force of officers will patrol the district all night.

PEACE NEAR AT HAND, SAYS MADERO

Insurrecto Leader Makes Announcement After Conference With Government Envoy

DEFINITE PROPOSITIONS BROUGHT

Conference Held at Madero's Quarters at Juarez Last Night—Resignation of Diaz Said no Longer to be a Factor—Representation of Insurrectos in Cabinet and in Governorships the Main Bones of Contention.

Juarez, May 15.—Provisional President Francisco I. Madero, Jr., announced tonight at the conclusion of a conference with Judge Carbajal, the federal peace envoy, that there was a strong probability that peace would be restored in Mexico within a short time.

Conference Last Night. Francisco Carbajal, the official peace envoy of the Mexican government, and Francisco I. Madero, Jr., president of the provisional government, entered into a conference about peace tonight at the Madero house on the outskirts of Juarez, recently captured by the rebels.

Madero and Hernandez Present. Francisco Madero, Sr., and Rafael Hernandez, sole survivor of the numerous Madero assassins, were present. Definite Propositions from Government. Senator Carbajal brought definite propositions which the government is disposed to consider, and it is believed that upon the outcome of the conference depends whether peace will be restored.

Long Telegram of Instructions. Early today Senator Carbajal asked for a conference with President Madero, and it was known that he had received a long telegram from Mexico City giving him new instructions.

Communicated Back and Forth. All day it was evident that communications were passing back and forth between the two envoys. The conference was held in the morning at the Madero house, and it was known that he had received a long telegram from Mexico City giving him new instructions.

Insurrecto Demands Coldly Received. The original demand of the insurrectos that they be allowed to name 14 governors of the 27 states and that they be represented in a new cabinet by four members has not been received.

Four After Diaz Resigns. There is a belief tonight, however, that the government will promise four members of the cabinet after President Diaz shall have resigned and Senator Diaz will have resigned.

Madero's Army Increasing. Meanwhile the Madero army at Juarez has been increased by heavy reinforcements of volunteers to about 2,500 well armed men. Telegrams were received from General Figueroa, commander of the Madero army in the north, saying that the southern leader had nearly 12,000 men in the field and that he would move on to Juarez with Provisional President Madero.

Rebels Take Pachuca. Mexico City, May 15.—One of the most audacious demands made for the surrender of a city since the beginning of the revolution, Pachuca, a city of 100,000 inhabitants, 60 miles north of Mexico City, is tonight in the hands of rebels. All day long the city was shelled by the army of the state and near Pachuca. This gave them control of the state.
